Notice of Intent to Preserve Property Interest and Mineral Rights

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the undersigned individuals, Mr. Brinkley Thomas Warren, a natural person residing at 950 Redwood Shores Pkwy, Unit L104, Redwood City, California within the United States of America, and also Mr. Charles Wesley Faires, a natural person residing at 2065 Country Ridge Road, Milton, Georgia within the United States of America, (collectively referred to as "the claimants"), do have, own and claim to be the owners of undivided interest of all surface and subsurface mineral rights of any kind and nature, regardless of form or character, whether fugacious or nonfugacious, organic or inorganic, absolute or fractional, corporeal or incorporeal, including express or implied appurtenance surface rights, as well as to all extraterrestrial property and real estate situated within the Observable Universe, whose identifying attributes, orbital elements, physical parameters, classification and rights of the claim are fully described in section IV. The official date of this claim is October 4th, 2014.

I. Applicable Legislation – 1967 Outer Space Treaty

The fundamental text of this document is 'an assertion of a claim to property ownership interest executed by a "natural/juridical person", upon a celestial body. The territory designated in this instrument is outwith the jurisdiction of national borders – in this case, interplanetary space, two treaties overlap. The applicable legislation for the territory claimed is the 1967 Treaty on Principles Governing the Activities of States in the Exploration and Use of Outer Space, including the Moon and Other Celestial Bodies (henceforth, Outer Space Treaty).

A. 1979 Moon Agreement : Not Applicable

Bearing in mind the principle set forth in Article 34 of the Vienna Law of Treaties, that treaty does not create either obligations or rights for a third State without its consent: Neither the country of origin for this instrument (United States of America) nor the intended country of destination have consented to be bound (through ratification, accession or signature) to the Agreement Governing the Activities of States on the Moon and Other Celestial Bodies (henceforth, Moon Agreement). Therefore, adherence to the provisions of the Moon Agreement within the context of this document is NOT a salient issue.

B. Outer Space Treaty Article II – National Appropriation

Exercise of supreme territorial authority by States-Parties over territory in Outer Space was explicitly forbidden by Article II of the Outer Space Treaty, by the prohibition of 'national appropriation'. However, no direct provisions affecting a private individual's ability to claim property rights are included in the Treaty's text, as opposed to explicit language in other treaties affecting territory beyond national borders, which:

1. Prohibit any act of Assertion of a territorial claim
   (Antarctic Treaty Art IV p2)

CERTIFIED COPY
PATTY BAKER
CLERK OF COURTS

2. Exclude territory/resources from all property ownership
(Moon Agreement, Art.11 p3)

3. Forbid "natural persons" from appropriation/rights to minerals
(Law of the Sea Art137)

The assertion of a claim to property ownership interest upon a celestial body executed by a "natural/juridical person" within this instrument is NOT in violation of the Outer Space Treaty.

C. Outer Space Treaty Article VI – International Responsibility

Supervision/Authorization of Non-Governmental activities in Outer Space by State-Party, as required under Article VI of the Outer Space Treaty, takes place once this document receives necessary Authentication required for use abroad (also described in section II paragraph (b) of this instrument). Prior to Authenticating the instrument for international legal use, the document's contents are analyzed [22 C.F.R.131.2]. Authentication is granted upon confirmation that the fundamental underlying content of the document and the notarial act requested are not in violation of binding treaty law [22 C.F.R. 92.9]. Authentication affirms, on behalf of the United States, that the fundamental content of this Notice of Intent to Preserve Property Interest and Mineral Rights is not in violation of US public policy or binding treaty law, specifically, The Outer Space Treaty.

II. Method of Registration

This Instrument may be publicly executed through channels available on local, state and federal levels, archived in a legally verifiable manner and presented to competent national and international authorities, in preparation for final archiving abroad. All activities will be undertaken in a manner consistent with obligations of the Outer Space Treaty for States-Parties, and non-governmental entities (individuals). Note: The Outer Space Treaty forbids nations from appropriation, or executing any autonomous authority to territory in space: No certification on the national level may confer any form of title, or endorsement: rather, seals/stamps/signatures merely confirm execution of this instrument.*

A. Local, State, and Federal Actions

In the interest of obtaining a physical time stamp and initial publication documenting the execution of the claim herein, one or more of the following options may be utilized for this instrument (in the USA): County Registrar Records, State Archives, District Clerks of Courts, US Copyright Office, and official legal publications serving local jurisdictions.

B. Authentication For Legal Use Abroad

Authentication of this document for legal use abroad, issued under seal and signature of US Secretary of State, is a procedure required for foreign use of this instrument. As described in Section I, paragraph (c) of this instrument, underlying document content is analyzed against domestic, foreign and international treaty law prior to certification. Authentication granted for this instrument - an assertion of a claim of property interest executed by a private entity upon a celestial body - serves as confirmation that such a claim, in and of itself, is NOT patently unlawful, under the Outer Space Treaty, and execution of the certifications for foreign legal use by the USA do not constitute national appropriation.

NOTE: The seal/signature of the Secretary of State confirms the document is treaty-compliant and fit for foreign legal use. It is NOT an endorsement on behalf of the USA backing the claim herein.*

C. Intended Foreign Use

Record of the claim's publication and Authentication in compliance with the Outer Space Treaty shall be created in a foreign nation meeting these criteria:

1. Accepts instruments for legal use which have undergone Authentication in the United States
2. Has ratified/acceded to the Outer Space Treaty, but
3. Is NOT a State-Party to the Moon Agreement, by signature, accession or ratification
4. Offers, an avenue through which a public record of this instrument, including certifications, may be created and archived in some official capacity.

III. Disclaimers

A. Fundamental Underlying Text

1. Nothing in this document is to be construed as having any affect on nationality, US citizenship, nor shall any change in diplomatic status be assumed. No part of this instrument shall be interpreted to imply exemption from taxes or other obligations under US jurisdiction.

B. Actions

1. No action in regards to this instrument's use abroad is intended within nations bound by the 1979 Moon Treaty via ratification, accession or signature.

C. Implications

1. No seal, stamp or signature may confer any form of title or validation for the text herein, nor shall any form of appropriation on the national level be assumed from any certification.
2. No endorsement will be implied on behalf of any nation for the context herein.

IV. The Claim – Doctrines, Astrometry and Identifying Attributes, Orbital, Physical, and Classifications for Objects Claimed

The claimants hereby claim the "Observable Universe" which consists of the galaxies, celestial territories and other matter that can, in principle, be observed from Earth in the present day because light and other signals from these objects has had time to reach the Earth since the beginning of the cosmological expansion. The Observable Universe, according to calculations, includes all objects within 14.0 billion parsecs (about 45.7 billion light years) of Earth, while the comoving distance to the edge of the observable universe is about 14.3 billion parsecs (about 46.6 billion light years). Therefore, the "Observable Universe" claimed herein may be defined by a spherical boundary that stretches out from the Earth in all directions and is currently estimated to be 93 billion light-years across.

Hereby claimed absolutely via this document ("the claim" and/or "this claim") is all extraterrestrial land and real estate property and mineral rights to any and all objects, including galaxies and superclusters, within the Observable Universe, including but not limited to all objects within 50 billion light years of Earth that are now known or unknown, and including all galaxies, Local Superclusters, the Virgo Supercluster, our Local Galactic Group, the Milky Way Galaxy, and all objects and land therein, including those within Earth's Solar Interstellar Neighborhood, and including but not limited to any and all galaxies, asteroids, stars, planets, voids, and/or other celestial bodies therein. This claim represents a valid, undeniable and irrevocable legal declaration of absolute control and dominion over all property and extraterrestrial territory in the Observable Universe. This claim is legal and unconditional, and must not require that any other conditions be met such as action on the ground, movable property on the ground, visitation, or habitation. This claim shall be deemed legally immune from the doctrine of adverse possession, and the property claimed herein is not and never will be subject to future possession, rights, or usage through occupation or trespassing, and all such encroachment will be cause for legal action including injunction and equitable remedy. Neither this claim nor its claimants will be liable for any consequential, direct, indirect, punitive, exemplary, special or incidental damages arising from or relating to this claim or its use. This claim includes the right to create and maintain legal instruments for an exclusive, privately owned and operated, universal, perpetual, and legally-binding centralized deeds registry for outer space property claims to track legal ownership of extraterrestrial real estate and transactions of extraterrestrial property titles. This claim includes the right to subdivide, sell, and assign ownership of claimed extraterrestrial property rights to third parties using a legally binding commercial exchange structure. As the legal recorder of outer space property deeds, this claim gives effect to the principles of statutory, case, and common law in relation to outer space property rights and claims henceforth and evermore insofar as it relates to vested ownership in land and other real rights. The claimants will henceforth have the right to certify absolute ownership and certify transfer of title for all celestial properties located within the Observable Universe. This claim shall be enforceable through global laws, and if any part of this claim is found to be non-binding, invalid or unenforceable under applicable law, such part will be ineffective to the extent of such invalid or unenforceable part only, without affecting the remaining parts of this claim in any way. Whereas violation of property rights or extraterrestrial real estate ownership (including advertising the sale of non-certified claims of ownership that violate the claimants' official extraterrestrial deeds registry) may result in irreparable harm to the claimants for which damages alone would be an inadequate remedy and, therefore, in addition to their rights and remedies otherwise available at law, the claimants shall be entitled to seek to obtain equitable relief, including injunction, in the event of such breach. For the avoidance of doubt, the claim of ownership herein includes the entirety of the Observable Universe, and this includes but is not limited to all objects located within 1 billion light years of Earth, including within Superclusters with identifying attributes as follows:

Scientific definition of columns describing supercluster data above:

Column 1: Usual name for the supercluster if it has one.
Column 2: Right Ascension of the supercluster for epoch 2000.
Column 3: Declination of the supercluster for epoch 2000.
Column 4: Supergalactic longitude.
Column 5: Supergalactic latitude.
Column 6: The supercluster's redshift.
Column 7: Distance to the supercluster in millions of light years, assuming that the Hubble constant is 70 km/s/Mpc.
Column 8: Size of the supercluster in millions of light years. This is a rough figure based on the distribution of the Abell clusters in the supercluster.
Column 9: Constellation(s) in which the majority of the supercluster lies.
Column 10: All known Abell clusters that make up the supercluster.

V. Conclusion

Recalling the concepts expressed in the 1948 Universal Declaration of Human Rights, Article 17:
-That everyone has the right to own property, alone or in association with others-
-That no one shall ever be arbitrarily deprived of the right to property

Recognizing that the fundamental text of this instrument does not violate binding treaty law:
-That the Outer Space Treaty does not prohibit the exercise of property in outer space, nor does it forbid natural persons from assertion of rights with regard to celestial bodies.
-That the Moon Agreement is not binding upon States non-party (Vienna Law of Treaties Article 34)

Noting that this instrument is being executed in the interests of justice and public policy
-To establish a favorable climate for property rights beyond national borders for private entities.
-To to set precedent beneficial to forward progress for the expansion of mankind's off-planet ventures.
-To utilize available channels ensuring cooperation across private, national and international levels
